

Welcome to THE LODGE AT WALTERS COVE

PRIME

At Walters Cove anglers enjoy the comforts of a world-class lodge located in a rugged, remote area with unbelievable fishing! Walters Cove Lodge is located on the northwest end of Vancouver Island, just south of the Brooks Peninsula. The lodge is a short boat ride away from what is known as the "Salmon Highway", where plentiful chinook (kings) and coho (silvers) from up and down the west coast of North America stop to feed on abundant baitfish.

Because it is located on the edge of the continental shelf, WALTERS COVE LODGE IS HOME TO SOME OF THE BEST SALMON FISHING IN THE WORLD. Giant schools of chinook and coho salmon migrating to northern and southern waters are forced to travel through the local waters, as currents push fish along the shelf and underwater canyons.

Salmon and halibut anglers searching for the ultimate Canadian fishing vacations have discovered Walters Cove Lodge and its opportunities for big fish - and lots of them.

Anglers visiting Walters Cove Lodge enjoy West Coast Resorts' signature convenience, travelling direct to The Lodge by float plane from Port Hardy on Vancouver Island, to Walters Cove Lodge in Kyuquot Sound. Kyuquot Sound has long been known by experienced anglers as a prime fishing location. Our guests enjoy two unique features that attract large numbers of fish. A barrier reef, which runs from one to six miles off shore, provides structure for salmon, halibut, lingcod and rockfish. As well, a huge population of sea otters thrives near the lodge. The sea otters feast on sea urchins, which in other areas have decimated kelp. WITH HUGE KELP FORESTS, BAITFISH AND LARGER PREDATORY FISH ARE ABUNDANT NEAR THE LODGE.

Our guests fish in durable boats equipped with the latest electronics, fishing gear and electric downriggers. Knowledgeable instructors guide guests for up to 10 hours a day and facilitate the ultimate fishing adventure.
